ECONOMIC ABUSE
POWER AND CONTROL WHEEL

- Causing partner to be late to work, miss work or leave early
- Stalking partner at work and/or harassing while at work
- Sabotaging partner's performance or reputation
- Ruining partner's credit
- Bouncing checks
- Accumulating debt and then declaring bankruptcy
- Forging partner's name on checks or financial documents
- Denying partner access to family income such as credit cards or bank accounts
- Placing partner on an allowance
- Refusing to pay child support
- Filing inaccurate income to determine or alter the amount of support paid
- Submitting inconsistent or late payments
- Denying paternity
- Not providing available health insurance
- Claiming children on taxes
- Evicting partner from the house/apartment
- Causing partner to get evicted because of domestic violence issues or lack of rental payment
- Shutting off utilities
- Threatening to report partner to welfare office
- Stealing welfare checks from partner
- Causing partner to be sanctioned

*Adapted from the Domestic Abuse Intervention Program's Power & Control Wheel.

Sponsored by the Florida Coalition Against Domestic Violence and the State of Florida, Department of Children and Families.